PSAC THROUGH THE YEARS

1951

After years of successful competition among its state-wide colleagues, 14 charter members officially formed the Pennsylvania State Teachers College Athletic Conference. In its initial campaign, the PSTCAC crowned champions in six men's sports: baseball, basketball, football, soccer, outdoor track & field and wrestling.

1977

In response to a growing interest across the league, the PSAC reorganized to provide opportunities for its women's programs. Over the next five years, the PSAC would grow to recognize champions in nine women's sports: basketball, cross country, field hockey, lacrosse, softball, swimming, tennis, outdoor track & field and volleyball.

1980

With members still competing across various divisions, the conference elected to standardize its NCAA affiliation at the Division II level.

1983

The league's charter members were all granted university status with the formation of the Pennsylvania State System of Higher Education. With the change, the league became known as it is today: The Pennsylvania State Athletic Conference.

2008

For the first time in its history the PSAC expanded beyond its original 14 members. The 2008-09 season marked the first season for full-time members Gannon University and Mercyhurst College, as well as associate member Long Island University - C.W. Post, which joined the league to compete in field hockey and football.

2011-12

Recognized as one of the NCAA's top conferences, the PSAC now boasts 16 full-time members and totals two associate members with the 2011 addition of Seton Hill University in field hockey. The league not only provides championship opportunities in 23 sports, it also hosts all of its full-time members in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, establishing the PSAC as the NCAA's largest one-state conference. Combined its membership has produced 43 NCAA team and 246 individual champions, enrolls over 127,000 students and is represented by over 710,000 alumni.

WHO WE ARE --- Division II Positioning Statement --- LIFE IN THE BALANCE

Higher education has lasting importance on an individual's future success. For this reason, the emphasis for the student-athlete experience in Division II is a comprehensive program of learning and development in a personal setting. The Division II approach provides growth opportunities through academic achievement, learning in high-level athletic competition and development of positive societal attitudes in service to community. The balance and integration of these different areas of learning opportunity provide Division II student-athletes a path to graduation while cultivating a variety of skills and knowledge for life ahead.
